

I Remember

I remember, I remember
The sky where I was sleep
The little cloud where the moon
Came shining in at the storm.

I remeber, I remember
The day where I killed you,
The horrible body where the blood
Came rising in at the heaven.

Poems based on Thomas Hood's poem

The house where I was born
I remember, I remember
The house where I was born,
The little window where the sun
Came peeping in at morn.
