Eat

Liverpool has every kind of restaurant, from sleek fine dining to independent bistros and high street favourites, and it can tick just about every box in terms of international cuisine, ranging from top Indians to spicy Thais.

Head to 60 Hope Street for classic, gourmet dishes and sample its signature dessert – a deep fried jam sandwich with carnation milk ice cream. Or go up the road to the Everyman Bistro for a wholesome, delicious selection of fresh salads, hot dishes and soups all day long.

You can enjoy finest hand-crafted food, a delectable Classic Champagne Cocktail and breathtaking 360° views across the city and over to the Wirral Peninsula from Panoramic, on the 34th floor of West Tower (don't miss out on Hervé's belt-tightening cheese trolley). Or go and feast on modern international food at London Carriage Works at Hope Street Hotel, popular with the city's gastronomes.

Alternatively, check out The Restaurant Bar and Grill, which serves great, simple eclectic dishes all freshly made and prepared on the premises. For something a little more Oriental, head to Liverpool's China Town, the oldest Chinese community in Europe, for a wide choice of authentic restaurants. Or try Sapporo and be entertained by their show chefs as they prepare mouth-watering Teppanyaki cuisine.

You can go Thai at Chaophraya, offering Royal Thai cuisine in luxuriously decadent surroundings. Then there's the fabulous San Carlo on Castle Street, serving up authentic Italian dishes, and voted one of the top ten Italian restaurants in the UK by The Times and described by Vogue as "a must for lovers of fine Italian cuisine".

Southport is excellent for eating out too. Try the trendy V-Café at the Vincent Hotel on Lord Street, which serves up tasty soups, freshly blended juices and Asian sushi and sashimi. Great for lunch, but a top evening destination too, with dimmed lights, candles and groovy music. Or go to the Warehouse, which combines national dishes like superb fish and chips with top international dishes such as Moroccan shank of lamb. A former Warehouse chef has also opened Bistrot Vérité, a fabulous family run restaurant in Birkdale, serving up excellent rustic French bistro dishes.

60 Hope Street

Head to 60 Hope Street and sample its signature dessert – a deep fried jam sandwich with carnation milk ice cream.

V-Café & Sushi Bar

Over on the Wirral Peninsula the gourmet offering is centred around fresh, locally sourced produce. Restaurant Fraiche has brought the first Michelin star to the region and serves up meticulously prepared cuisine, but make sure you book in advance. The exclusive Yellow Room at the Hillbark Hotel in Frankby also offers gourmet food in sumptuous mock-Tudor surroundings, while Shelldrakes and Roses Tea Rooms, both in Heswall, and The Wheatsheaf pub in Raby, all serve great food.

There are also loads of foodie things to do in Liverpool. There are food and drink festivals and farmers markets galore, plus you can sample fine wines and nibble on a tasty range of artisan meats and cheeses at Vinea Wine Bar, Liverpool's first specialist wine bar and shop, do a cookery workshop at Claremont Farm in Bebington on the Wirral Peninsula or visit its Christmas Gourmet Fayre in Port Sunlight.

Wirral Year of Food

To celebrate Wirral Peninsula's gourmet food and delicious local produce, 2010 has been declared Wirral's Year of Food; a yearlong celebration of fantastic food in Wirral Peninsula.

There have been many successes for Wirral Peninsula's restaurants. Fraiche in Oxton was awarded a much deserved Michelin star, and later in the year was declared to have the best wine list of any UK restaurant by the Good Food Guide. Da Piero, a small restaurant in Irby, was recognised as the best new entry in the 2010 Which Guide, and has been described as serving "food that fills you with joy."

There will be events throughout the year, which will culminate in a Christmas Gourmet Fair in Port Sunlight. For the full programme and more information please visit www.VisitWirral.com/tastewirral
